PROFILE OF THE POSITION

The U.S. Agency for International Development is seeking an individual for the position of Information and Communications Assistant.

BASIC FUNCTION OF POSITION

This position is located in the Program Office (PO) of USAID/Colombia. The Program Office leads the Mission's strategic planning, obligation, reporting, and evaluation processes. These responsibilities are especially critical in this large, politically-charged, and programmatically complex Mission.

The Information and Communications Assistant reports directly to the Program Information and Communications Specialist. S/he is responsible for producing critical information and communications material that will permit USAID/Colombia to communicate accomplishments and progress to Congress, USAID/Washington, partners, the Colombian public, and other interested parties in support of Government of Colombia's goals and objectives. S/he is also responsible for providing program information and communications management support to the Program Office and the entire USAID mission. This support complements Embassy Public Affairs Section (PAS) efforts to inform the Colombian public and U.S. officials of the full spectrum of USAID activities, and their positive impact in Colombia. Serves as Information and Communications Specialist in absence of incumbent.

As directed by the Program Information and Communications Specialist, s/he drafts and/or coordinates (with implementing partners) the preparation of briefing materials, success stories, and activity highlights. S/he also maintains up-to-date versions of those materials for USAID/Colombia and Washington and other U.S. agencies for distribution to diverse audiences and constituencies, as well as the USAID/Colombia web site. S/he provides support to the Program Information and Communications Specialist in the implementation of the Mission's outreach and communications strategy that promotes Mission programs to both internal and external audiences, facilitates information access and sharing within the Mission, and strengthens the Mission reporting functions to USAID/Washington.

Maintains a thorough familiarity with USAID Mission priority themes and objectives as well as U.S. domestic and foreign policy in order to explain and enhance local understanding of USAID programs with primary contacts. Extensive travel to the sites of USAID-supported activities is required.

MAJOR DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Public Information and Communications Materials

- Drafts, develops and maintains information products to support the Mission's information and communications strategy. Products include brochures, handouts, fact sheets, monthly or bi-monthly newsletters, PowerPoint presentations, activity highlights, success stories and other visual displays on USAID's objectives and programs.

- Disseminates this information to the Mission's various audiences and constituencies, which include USAID/Washington; host government and NGO counterparts; assistance beneficiaries; USAID contractors and grantees; other donors; local and U.S. public opinion; and, via the Embassy PAS, local and international media.

- Works with USAID technical staff to develop weekly reports, speeches, briefing materials for handouts and other special needs. Prepares VIP briefing and press packets for use during USAID site visits or media events.

- Establishes and maintains (with input from the Technical Offices) an organized filing system of press clips, photos, success stories, and relevant information on where USAID is working in particular areas of Colombia to be available for site visits and reporting, as needed.

- With direction from the Program Information and Communications Specialist, the incumbent will be responsible for coordinating all of USAID/Colombia's branding efforts and will assist USAID staff and contractors in developing appropriately branded public information and events, and ensure proper implementation of branding guidelines.

- Travels to the field to become acquainted with projects and field staff and develops success stories for dissemination through website, outreach folders and to the media.

- Development and maintenance of USAID/Colombia Website

- As directed by the Information and Communications Specialist, continuously updates USAID/Colombia external Website.

- Selects reports, documents, graphics, and photographs displayed on Website, including clearing the content with USAID/Colombia management.

- Event Planning and Coordination

- In conjunction with the Embassy Public Affairs Section (PAS), Program Office, technical teams and implementing partners, takes primary responsibility planning and organizing USAID public diplomacy events, such as inaugurations, ribbon cutting, and completion of projects.

- Planning and coordination include, but are not limited to: conducting pre-planning visits, accompanying advance teams to negotiate protocol issues with staff of participating government officials, establishing and confirming event schedules, staging and logistical issues, preparing briefing books, speeches, scene-setters, and other materials, liaison with U.S. and local government officials and on-site coordination of media, etc. He/she will also follow-up with media to ensure coverage of public events.

The incumbent will maintain a calendar of USAID program events in close coordination with PAS, implementing partners, and the Cognizant Technical Officers (CTO).

- Information and Communications Strategy

- Assists the implementation of the Mission's information and communications strategy that promotes Mission programs to both internal and external audiences, facilitates information access and sharing within the Mission, and strengthens the Mission reporting functions to USAID/Washington.

- Provides public information/education/communications support for USAID programs by keeping abreast of the inter-relationships and significance of various program components, understanding the needs of the Technical Offices, and prioritizing needs for disseminating information and applying communications methodologies and tools.
